

A.H. RIISE

1838

AWARDS

ROYAL DANISH NAVY

This exceptional spirit drink, with its broad spectrum of aromas and subtleties of taste, offers a unique experience. It is truly a blend aimed at experienced aficionados.

A.H. RIISE "ROYAL DANISH NAVY 40%" is a spirit drink made from a variety of rum distillates. It is hand-blended by our master distiller in respect to naval traditions, using several casks to create this ultimate blend. A.H. RIISE "ROYAL DANISH NAVY 40%" is a molasses-based rum spirit that is generated through slow fermentation. It is then distilled into a rum with 85% alcohol content. This is achieved using the traditional pot-still distillation method, which results in a high content of esters and a powerful aroma. Finally, the spirit drink is diluted to a comfortable 40% volume before being poured into bottles and made ready for a drinking experience of exceptional qualities.

The production of all A.H. RIISE "ROYAL DANISH NAVY" aim to be true to the original ingredients and methods used back in A.H. Riise's original apothecary on the island of Saint Thomas in the Danish West Indies. It is said that rum from Albert Heinrich Riise was supplied to the naval fleet when they docked in the port of Charlotte Amalie in the former Danish West Indies. The name of the Danish West Indies changed to the U.S. Virgin Islands after the Islands were sold to The United States of America in the summer of 1916.

Once the spirit scent reaches your nose the spirits gives itself away by enveloping your nostrils in the undisputed fragrance of high-ester rums.

Tasting notes

COLOR	Mahogany
NOSE	Very rich nose with liquorice, like old fashioned cough syrup, orange zest, coconut, papaya, eucalyptus, and a little mint. A hint of sweet/bitter Balsamic reduction, black tea, and the spices of Christmas appears underneath the other notes.
TASTE	Everything from the nose appears in a very full taste which balances the oiliness with the green notes of eucalyptus and mint, the yellow citrus notes and the bitterness of liquorice and balsamic vinegar.
FINISH	Long lasting with notes of mocca and dark chocolate with orange.